This special issue presents the selected peer-reviewed full-text papers from the 2nd Postgraduate Colloquium, Faculty of Health Sciences, Universiti Teknologi MARA (UiTM). This colloquium is organised by the Centre for Postgraduate Studies, along with prominent support from the faculty's management. This colloquium aims to provide a platform for postgraduate students to share their research findings, ideas and research progress with fellow researchers. This special issue marks an important milestone for the faculty's postgraduate office.

The Faculty of Health Sciences, UiTM fosters future scientists, technologists, therapists, nurses and academicians with the zeal to learn and contribute to society and humankind in line with the motto: "Unleashing Potentials, Shaping the Future". The faculty and university always strive for excellence in our programs, aiming at producing postgraduates with fundamental academic skills in theory and practice for the advancement of a modern way of life.

This special issue is not only limited to the area of health sciences management but also includes various other fields in health sciences. Original research as well as review articles are accepted. We congratulate all our postgraduate students who are committed to disseminating their research findings. Indeed, this is a good platform provided to facilitate the academic writing culture among students.

The editorial team would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to all colloquium committees (Razif, Evana, Ramadan, Harnisha, Farhanah, Azam, Shazwaniza, Qayyum, Safwanah), participants and presenters who made this colloquium a successful event. A sincere thanks to all the reviewers who facilitate the peer-review process. A big thanks to the Editorial Board and production team of JSSM for their support and for constantly assisting us in making this issue a reality.
